To Arrange Details.

Messrs Martineau, Wilson, Diffendor-fer and Harris were selected to prepare a program for the entertainment of the delegates during the twelve days they will be in Salt Lake. These four will meet at luncheon at the Commercial club on Saturday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, when the program will be arranged. It is un-derstood that a banquet will be one of the features of the program of entertain-

There will be a street parade on the opening day of the convention, in which the carpenters will probably be joined by the carpenters will probably be joined by the members of other unions.

Mr. Diffendorfer reported that arrangements had been made for the decoration of Armory hall for the convention. These decorations will be made as elaborate as possible, without covering the windows and interfering with the proper ventilation of the hall

McCornick and Others Confer With Harriman Regarding Proposed Line to District.

W. S. McCornick, who, with Governor Cutler and Thomas R. Cutler, had a conference with Edward H. Harriman, the ference with Edward H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, when he passed through Ogden on Wednesday, said yesterday that the talk with Mr. Harriman was for the purpose of learning what prospects there were of the building a branch of the Oregon Short Line from Sugar City into the Teton district, a distance of thirty miles. This branch line, Mr. McCornick sald, has already been surveyed.

Mr. Harriman, he said, stated that he had heard of the proposed extension, but

ACTIVITY IS UNCHECKED

In building operations this year, Salt Lake from month to month has usually taken first place among the cities of the country, but during the past month Salt Lake took second place because of a spurt of building activity in San Antonio, Tex. As Salt Lake's increase in building activity has been steady throughout all the months of the present year, the showing of San Antonio is not looked upon as affecting Salt Lake's position at the head of the list.

According to the American Contractor's report of August, forty-two of the leading cities of the country show a loss of 10 per cent in building activity, compared with the figures of August 1507. San Antonio shows a gain of 224 per cent, and Salt Lake a gain of 128 per cent. Ten other cities show gains, smaller than Salt Lake and San Antonio. The others show losses.
